

Canadian Energies & PrimePath Capital:

After spending an intense week trying to figure out all I could about Canadian Energies and its proposed $1.9 billion plan for Chatham-Kent, it's impossible to feel any sense of optimism that this project will ever come to fruition.

What I've learned is that much of what anybody knows about Canadian Energies has come via the business site LinkedIn, which boasts over a billion members around the world.

It's a great place for people to connect, and it's also a great place for some people to lay the groundwork for businesses - and even people - who may not actually exist, providing them with unearned credibility.

There are no head shots on any of the four websites in play for PrimePath Capital.

Who/what is PrimePath Capital?

There's not a lot to know about PrimePath. There is no info on its one-page website and no posted contact information on its LinkedIn page. The only option anybody has to reach out is to fill in a box to message. There is one thing we do know about PrimePath and that is that three of those involved with Canadian Energies are involved with it: Mark Garvin is a Managing Partner; Rory Woods is a co-founder and managing partner and Richard (Rohail) Wilson is its founder and chairman. This is all information gleaned from their LinkedIn pages. Below are three ads they shared on the LinkedIn site, with one even featuring Richard. They each have a different website, and two of them don't exist. The current one-page site isn't listed on LinkedIn.

About

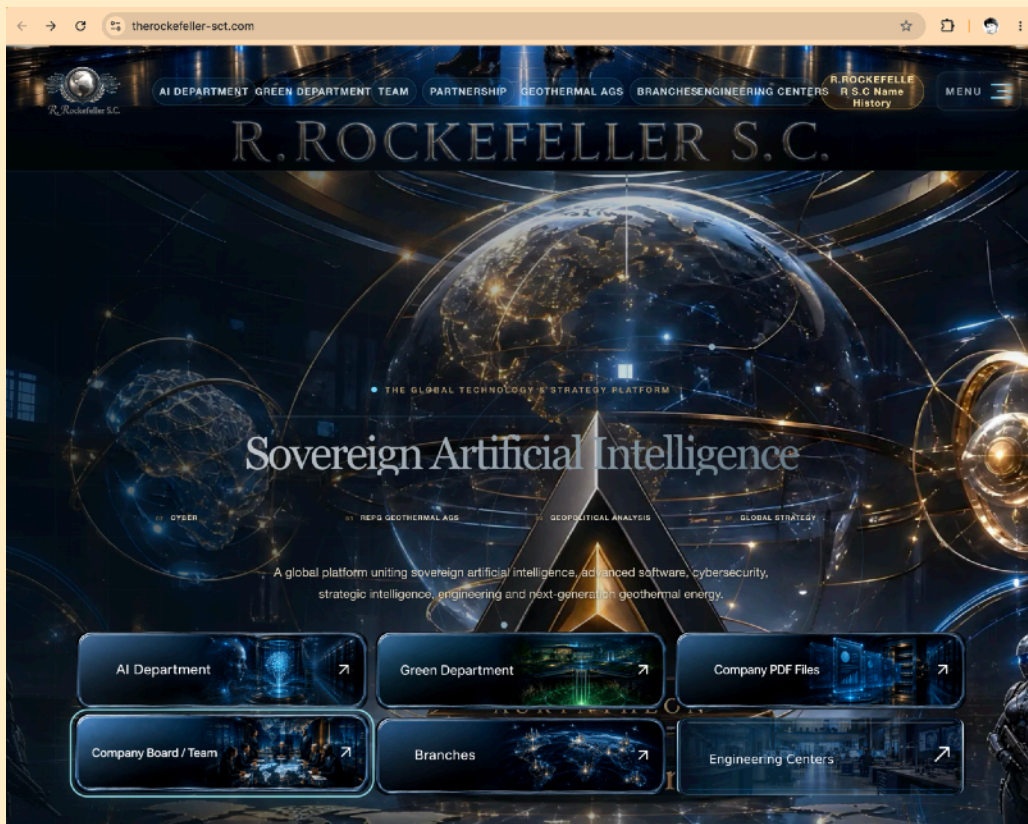

Chief Executive Officer (CEO) & Majority Shareholder of The R. Rockefeller S.C. (RRSC), I have built, together with my global team, a multinational group operating across strategic sectors including next-generation artificial intelligence, cybersecurity, energy, geopolitics, and sustainability.

In just three and a half years, we have established operations in more than 15 countries across Asia, Africa, the Middle East, and Europe, with a structured expansion plan to enter over 30 additional countries in the coming years.

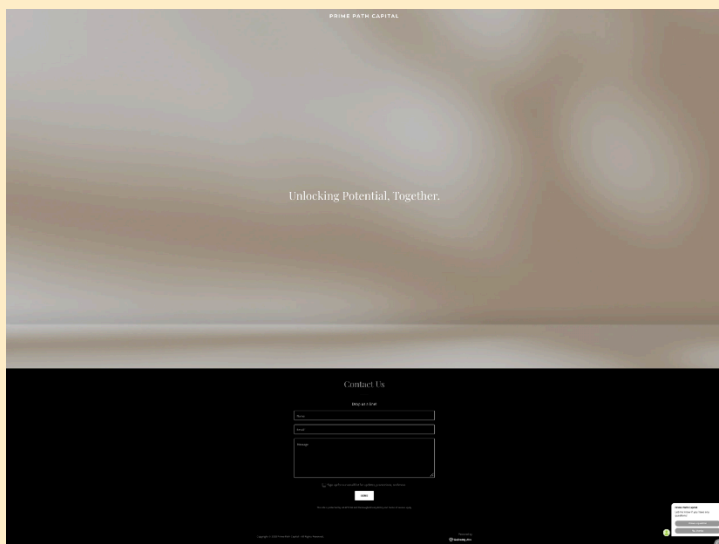

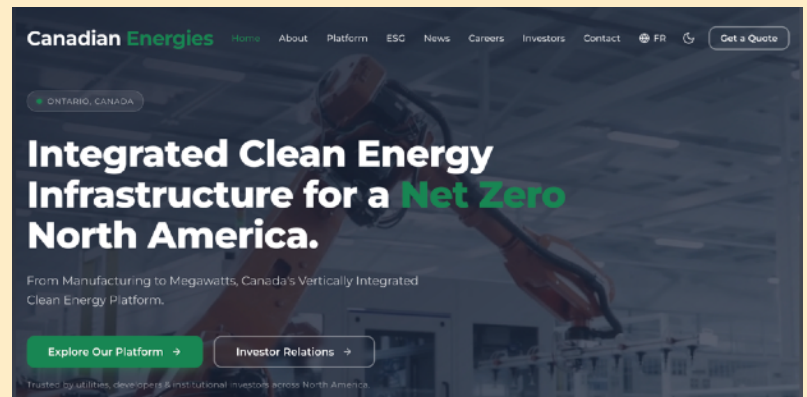

At the core of our vision is AURYNTHEON, our proprietary next-generation artificial intelligence architecture, designed as a unified cognitive system capable of operating across multiple domains simultaneously. We consider it a true game changer in the evolution of artificial intelligence.

We operate in complex and high-value strategic environments, combining industrial execution, advanced technological development, new type of geothermal energy technology and international partnerships to build long-term global positioning.

We are currently focused on expanding our international footprint and establishing strategic collaborations with selected partners and institutions.

Rockefeller S.C.; the website for Arab Energies, which has no people associated with it; the Canadian Energies website; the PrimePath Capital website which consists of one page and the WorldOne Energies website, which looks nothing like the other sites.
